

Follow these steps to install your computer:

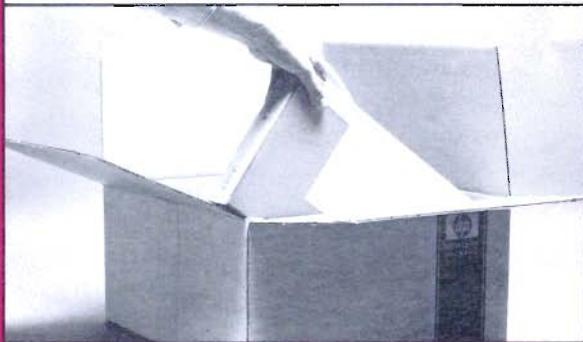

1 Remove the computer from the carton.

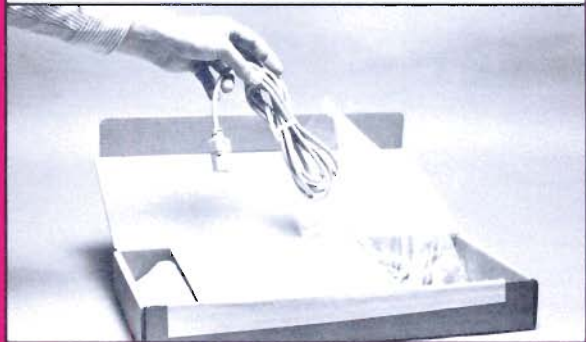

2 Place the computer on your desk.

3 Remove the long box from the carton.

4 Open the long box and remove the power cord.

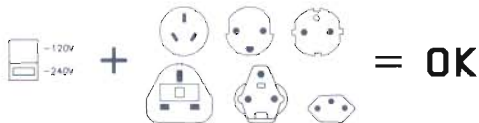

5 Compare the voltage setting to the power cord.

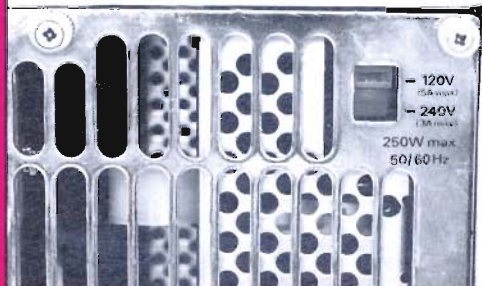

120V

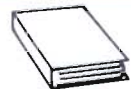

240V

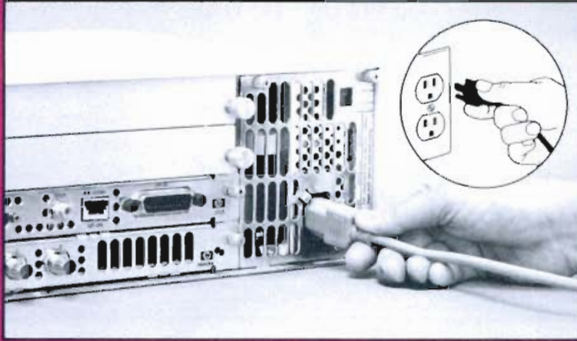

6 Check the voltage setting.

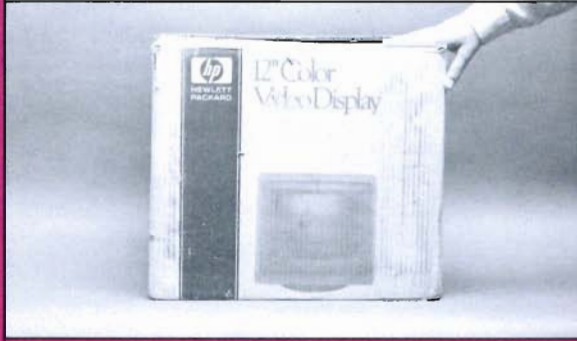

If you have any problems or questions, refer to the Installation Reference.

7 Connect power to the computer.

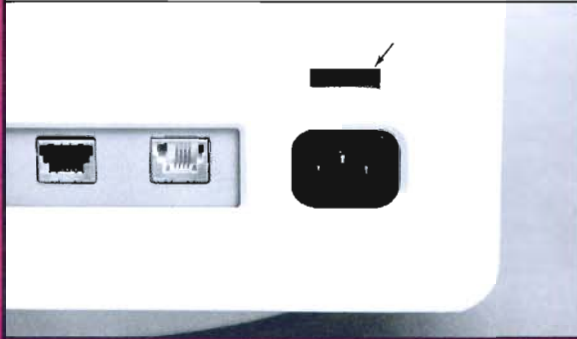

8 Find the video display monitor carton.

9 Unpack the monitor.

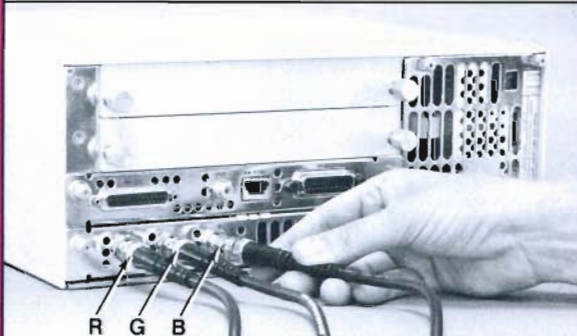

10 Check the voltage setting the same as the computer.

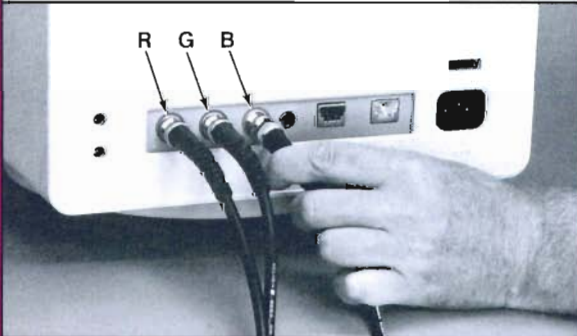

11 Find the video cables.

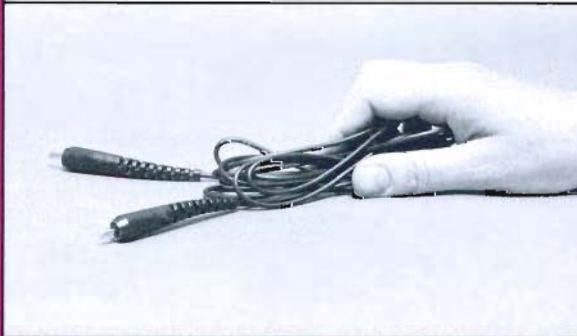

12 Connect the video cables to the computer.

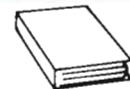

13 Connect the video cables to the monitor.

14 Find the audio cable.

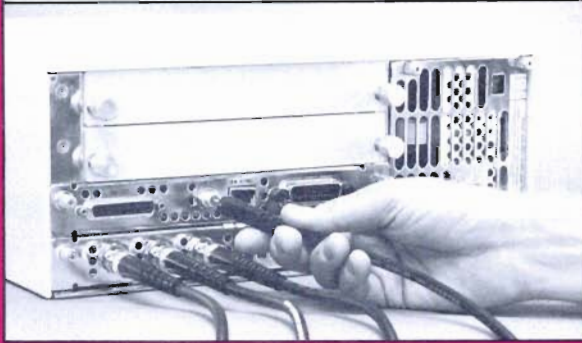

If you have any problems or questions, refer to the Installation Reference.

HP Computer Museum
www.hpmuseum.net

For research and education purposes only.

15 Connect the audio cable to the computer.

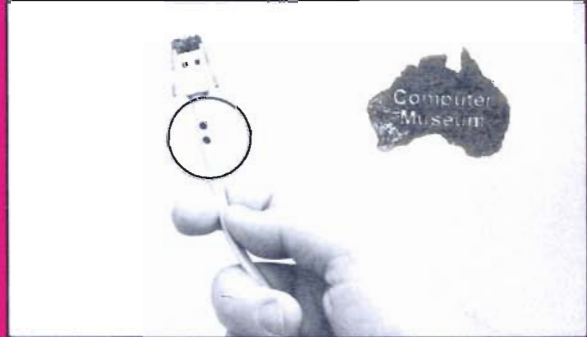

16 Connect the audio cable to the monitor.

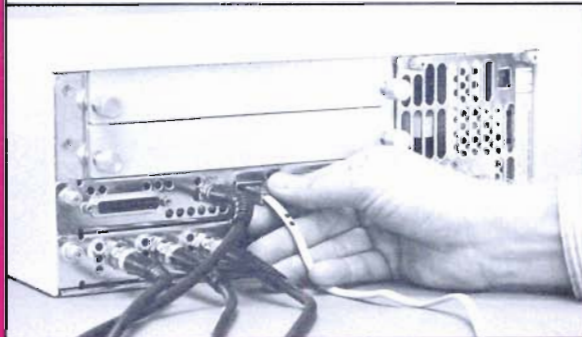

17 Find the HP-HIL cable.

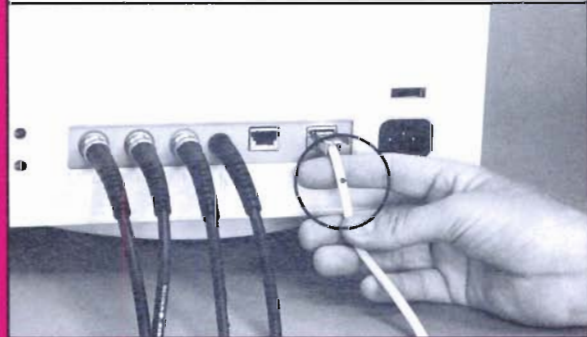

18 Find the two-dot end of the HP-HIL cable.

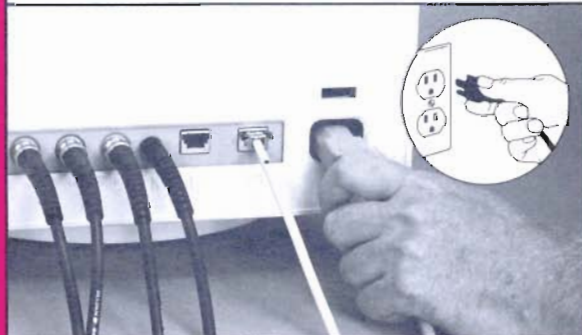

19 Connect the two-dot end of the HP-HIL cable to the computer.

20 Connect the one-dot end of the HP-HIL cable to the monitor.

21 Connect power to the monitor.

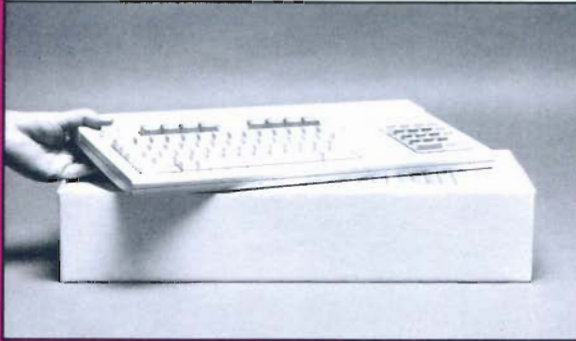

22 Turn the monitor on.

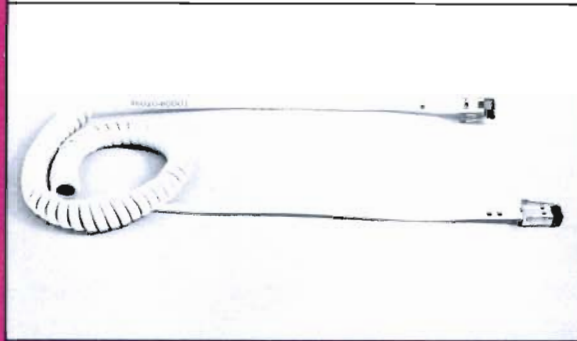

If you have any problems or questions, refer to the Installation Reference.

23 Find and unpack the keyboard.

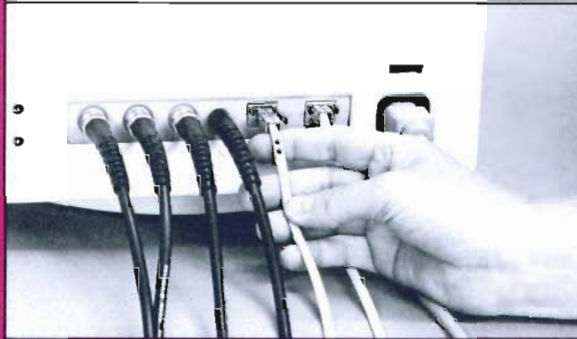

24 Find the keyboard cable.

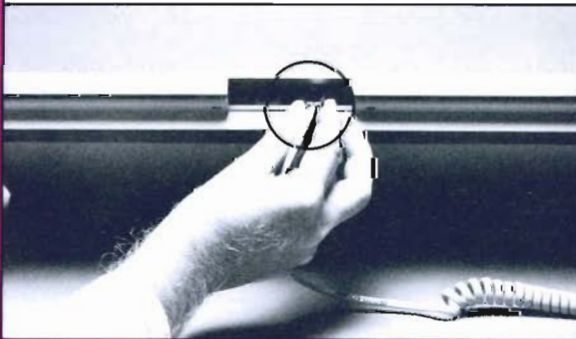

25 Find the two-dot end of the keyboard cable.

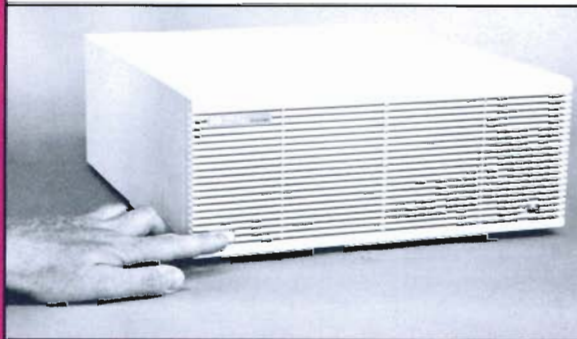

26 Connect the two-dot end of the keyboard cable to the monitor.

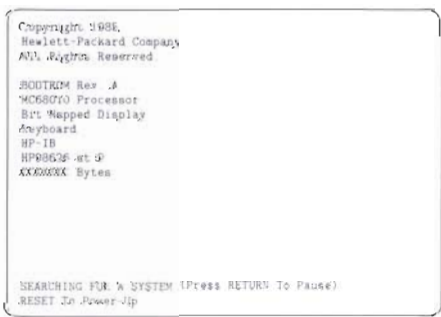

27 Connect the one-dot end of the keyboard cable to the keyboard.

28 Turn the computer on.

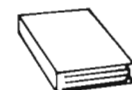

29 Compare the display to this picture:

30 If the display is correct, you have installed your computer.

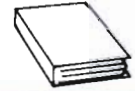

If you have any problems or questions, refer to the Installation Reference.

31 Refer to the Peripheral Installation Guide to install peripheral hardware.

If you have any problems or questions, refer to the Installation Reference.

Hewlett-Packard Company • 3404 East Harmony Road • Fort Collins, Colorado 80525

HP Part Number
98560-90610

Microfiche No. 98560-99610
Printed in U.S.A. 4/86

98560-90610