CONNECTIVITY

Accessories for the HP 95LX only

Link your HP palmtop to a DOS-compatible PC with the Connectivity Pack.

Exchange files effortlessly between your HP palmtop and any DOS-compatible PC.* The Connectivity Pack cable makes hookup easy. Connectivity Pack software transfers Lotus® 1-2-3® worksheets, text, and organizer files to and from your HP palmtop either directly or via modem using a convenient split-screen interface. With the serial cable, you can also connect directly to a serial printer and produce hard copy on the spot.

The Connectivity Pack includes DOS-Connect, a utility from Traveling Software, Inc., that lets your desktop PC treat the HP palmtop as a disk drive. Run these palmtop applications on your PC: appointment and phone books, memo editor, HP financial calculator, and filer. Additional software translates Central Point Software PC Tools, Borland Sidekick Plus, or Lotus Metro files to HP-compatible files.

HP F1001A
Connectivity Pack
HP 95LX to IBM and IBM-compatible PCs

Includes: 1.5-meter serial cable, 9- to 25-pin connector, 3½-inch and 5¼-inch disks with PC software, User's Guide.

*Requires a DOS-compatible PC with CGA or higher display, an available serial port (9- or 25-pin connection), and MS-DOS® 3.1 or above.

Lotus and 1-2-3 are registered trademarks of Lotus Development Corporation. MS-DOS is a registered trademark of Microsoft Corporation.

Accessories for the HP 95LX only

Connect your HP 95LX with Motorola's NewsStream advanced information receiver.

HP's optional Mobile Data Link provides a cradle and software to connect your HP 95LX with Motorola's NewsStream* advanced information receiver. Messages and file updates can be instantly received in your HP 95LX, wirelessly, via national, regional, or local radio paging services. NewsStream receives and stores up to 56 messages, even when it's not connected to the HP 95LX.

HP F1006B
Mobile Data Link
for HP 95LX to NewsStream* Receiver

Includes: software application card, cradle, User's Guide, nameplate.

HP Accessory Cradle to connect your HP palmtop system.

Keep your HP palmtop and its accessories together with this rugged, lightweight cradle. The cradle allows you to connect an HP palmtop with devices such as modems, wireless LANs, global positioning systems, and external disk drives. Access any serial device, including modems and printers, even while an accessory is in the cradle. When used with an ac adapter, the cradle powers the HP palmtop and its accessories.

HP F1007B
Accessory Cradle
for HP 95LX

Includes: HP 95LX cradle, User's Guide, nameplate.

*NewsStream advanced information receiver, a product of Motorola, Inc., is sold separately. Each NewsStream is built to receive a fixed frequency, so choose your paging service provider prior to purchasing NewsStream.

Accessories for the HP 100LX Only

Link your HP palmtop to a DOS-compatible PC with the Connectivity Pack.

Link your portable workplace with your office by connecting your HP 100LX to a desktop or notebook PC* with this Connectivity Pack.

Transfer organizer files and Lotus 1-2-3 worksheets, directly or via modem, with a convenient split-screen filer interface. Start file operations from either the PC or the HP 100LX and access the HP 100LX just like an additional PC disk drive. Run HP 100LX applications on your PC, including appointment book, phone book, memo editor with outliner, notetaker, HP financial calculator, filer, and database.

Connect the HP 100LX to a modem or standard 9-pin serial printer via the cable.

Express exchange—HP's overnight product replacement plan

HP SupportPack is like having a duplicate HP product in your back room. If your product ever has a problem that our technicians can't fix over the phone in a few minutes, we'll ship you an identical model right then and there. Once you receive your replacement the next business day, you simply put the defective unit in the same box, and send it back to us—prepaid by HP, of course.

Full three-year coverage

HP SupportPack is a new form of equipment protection that covers HP products for a full three years from the date of hardware purchase. While HP products rarely experience problems, HP SupportPack offers a quick and easy solution to get you back in business if problems do occur. It's your worry-free guarantee.

H5465A
HP SupportPack

Includes: registration information, terms and conditions of contract.

Note: HP SupportPack must be purchased within 30 days of purchasing the HP 100LX.
