Maintenance Agreement

Guaranteed Post-Warranty Service

HEWLETT  PACKARD

When do you consider post-warranty support and service for your equipment?

If you think about it anytime after purchase (most HP computing systems are under a ~~90-day~~ ^{12 MONTHS} warranty) you are gambling on profit-consuming downtime delays.

Actually, the time to guarantee post-warranty is when you purchase your Hewlett-Packard desktop computing system.

Such a guarantee is found in the HP Maintenance Agreement, which includes five special benefits. After you look these over, consider — doesn't your HP system need the benefits of our Maintenance Agreement?

For all the details, contact your local HP Desktop Computer service representative.

Self-Styled Contract

Hewlett-Packard Desktop Computer service representatives are ready to discuss a Maintenance Agreement that meets your needs. A plan will be developed, structured for your business and budget.

Preventive Maintenance

Equipment failures are minimized through our program of regularly scheduled maintenance. This means our service representative will clean, lubricate and adjust your equipment, and replace worn or aged parts.

Priority Response

This feature, available exclusively through our Maintenance Agreement, provides prompt response to your call. This is a prime consideration when you have deadlines to meet.

Specified Costs

You pay only a fixed yearly amount, even if actual repair costs exceed the annual cost of the agreement. There are no unexpected or additional costs, which gives you more leeway in making other budgetary decisions.

On-Site Service

Your equipment is repaired at your facility by one of our customer engineers. One way we accomplish this is through our convenient board exchange program.

Our on-site service saves you hours in disassembling, packaging, shipping . . . and waiting.
