

CI 9800 Interface

■ Interfaces HP 9800 series computers to Centronics type printers.

■ Fully wired—no modifications necessary.

■ Traditional Infotek quality and reliability, backed by a one year warranty.

Infotek Systems' CI 9800 interface allows Hewlett-Packard 9800 series desktop computer users to take advantage of the wide selection of Centronics compatible printers now on the market. HP desktop users are no longer limited in their choice of printers to those supported by the standard HP interfaces.

The CI 9800 connects Hewlett-Packard models 9845, 9835, 9831, and 9825 to Centronics compatible peripheral devices. Centronics-type printers are available in a wide variety of print technologies and price ranges. In addition, the CI 9800 may be used with any of the Centronics compatible external buffer devices which are readily available from many manufacturers. These devices let your computer work during print operations and help to make both you and your computer more productive.

The interface is configured with a 6 foot cable, and is terminated with the standard 36 pin connector—no modifications are necessary.
