The power you need At the price you want

To celebrate the release of Hewlett-Packard's latest workstation, the Model 705 Colour, HP is offering special deals on all its entry-level workstations.

Until August 31, you have the opportunity to purchase the Model 705 Colour workstation from the unbeatable price of $12,590 and the Model 705 Greyscale from $7190, a saving of 10 percent off the original purchase price. This offer also applies to the Model 710 workstations, the next step up in HP's family of high performance workstations.

The new Model 705 Colour

The fastest workstation in the world is no good to you if you can't afford it. Likewise, the cheapest workstation is useless if it does not have the power to run the applications you need.

Hewlett-Packard's entry-level workstations, the HP Apollo 9000 Models 705 and 710, offer a level of price performance unrivaled in the industry. The recently announced Model 705 Colour provides the best application, graphics and system performance in the market for its price.

Features of the Model 705 Colour include:

- 34 SPECmarks
- 800,000 2D/3D vectors per second
- Up to 64 MBytes RAM
- Up to 840 MBytes internal hard disk
- Choice of integrated mass storage devices

The right application for your business
